INTRODUCTION

Between May, 1939, and January, 1979, a vast quantity of tokens and paper scrip were produced for nearly every U.S. and territorial locality as a major side effect of the federal Food Stamp program¹. During those four decades store owners participating in the plan were required by federal and state officials at different times to issue private credit chits in making change for Food Stamp purchases. Using cash became illegal. The result was a colorful and highly collectible national series.

Neil Shafer of Wisconsin pioneered the Food Stamp Token and Scrip collecting field. He defined four issuing periods: 1939-43, 1961-70, 1972-74 and 1974-79 (see the Bibliography).

From 1939 to 1943 tokens and scrip were issued in denominations of 1¢ and 5¢ "Blue" and 1¢ and 5¢ "Orange." The first coupons were actual glue-backed stamps complete with perforations. Each was valued at 25¢. The colors refer to types of stamps in the series.

During the second and third phases Food Stamp Change was made only in denominations of 1¢, 5¢, 10¢ and 25¢. In the fourth phase, beginning 1975, 50¢ tokens and scrip were introduced.

From 1943 to 1961 no Food Stamp program existed. Between 1970 and 1972 Food Stamps continued to be distributed, but merchants had to use coins when making change instead of tokens or scrip. On January 1, 1979, tokens and scrip were abandoned once and for all and coins again became legal for Food Stamp change.

TOKEN ISSUERS

Like metal trade tokens produced in the early part of this century, Food Stamp Credit Tokens were issued mainly by small merchants — mom and pop groceries, corner liquor stores, country general stores and medium-size market chains.

Store names on the tokens testify to the increase in entrepreneurship by California African-Americans, Asians, Latinos and Middle Easterners. Shop names such as Dixie Market, Juanita's Tortilleria, Himed's Market, Kim's Liquor, Panaderia El Nopal and Sing's Super Market represent just a few.

Los Angeles County communities were the greatest localized source of tokens. The area is home for more than a third of California's population.

¹The correct title for Food Stamps is "U.S. Department of Agriculture Food Coupons," a name rarely used except by officials.

TOKEN MAKERS

The majority of Food Stamp Credit Tokens used in California and Nevada were manufactured between 1973 and 1979 by the Personalized Plastics Company of LaCrosse, Wisconsin. A few were produced by Tropical Lab, also of Wisconsin, in the early 1970s. A handful were made by the Plastic Tag and Trade Check Company in Michigan or similar firms.

The earliest California Food Stamp Credit Tokens were eight incuse aluminum pieces from Oakland and San Francisco issued in 1939. Their die-sinker remains unknown. All other tokens from both states were made of plastic as far as can be determined. Nevada tokens were first used in the middle 1970s.

SCOPE OF THE CATALOG

To qualify for this catalog a token must show one of the following phrases in its legend:

Food Stamp Credit
Eligible Foods
Food Coupon Purchase
Food Order Stamps

or similar wording.

Only Food Stamp Credit Tokens that could be attributed to California and Nevada are listed. Decisions to include or exclude were based on the best information available.

A short section on paper and cardboard scrip has been added, however no attempt was made to provide more than a glimpse of that enormous series. Duane Feisel suggests that for every token issuer there were ten issuers of paper scrip.

METHODS OF ATTRIBUTION

In the middle 1970s Neil Shafer convinced the Personalized Plastics Company to put aside a few token sets from each order that was placed. These token sets were placed in envelopes marked with the town and state taken from delivery invoices.

Eighty-five to ninety percent of the envelope designations were found to be correct. A few required more research because the delivery address for tokens was not always the locality where the tokens were actually used.

For example, a town shown in one token's legend is only the post office some distance from the issuing store (see Lindcove). Another token bears the name of a larger adjacent city (see North Richmond). Yet another could have been assigned correctly to either of two localities (see Navarro).

METHOD OF LISTING

All tokens known for a store have been entered.² Guidelines are as follows:

- a) Tokens are listed by locality. After each locality name the county is given in parentheses.
- b) Within each town tokens are listed alphabetically by the business name on the obverse.
- c) Obverse legends are completely spelled out in capital letters in one or two lines. The business name is highlighted in bold letters. Each obverse design is illustrated on the facing page.
- d) Reverses are stock designs and are described in Section I which follows this Introduction. In some cases two reverse types were used on different tokens with the same obverse. For each reverse design, information is provided for token size, shape, color and denomination.
- e) Information in italic letters is provided, usually attribution data for tokens which show no indication of town. A year mentioned in the italic letter information refers to a telephone book or other directory entry. Sometimes comments are included which clarify an aspect of the token or its issuer.

AVAILABILITY OF TOKENS

By the 1980s Shafer's sets were appearing in the Token and Medal Society Journal as mail auctions held by Christensen and Stone of Temple City, California.

Not long after the end of the Christensen and Stone auctions, Paul Cunningham of Tecumseh, Michigan, obtained a large quantity of tokens, many of which he still has for sale. A small accumulation turned up recently (1997) at Foothill Coins in Van Nuys, California. From time to time Lee Quast in Plymouth, Minnesota, advertises sets in the numismatic tabloids.

Several collectors purchased remaining stocks of tokens from the stores after 1979, notably myself and Duane Feisel. Many specimens will never be found except at flea markets and swap meets, especially those issued before 1975.

²In a few cases store owners firmly declared that they did not order certain denominations (see McFarland). When the manufacturer produced Shafer's samples it often included all five denominations whether or not all five were part of the proprietor's original order!

RARITY AND PRICE

Food Stamp Credit Tokens are cheap right now, although they appear to be more scarce than was originally believed. Tokens from Nevada are almost unavailable.

Sets of four or five tokens usually sell from $3.50 to $5.00, single tokens for 50¢ to $1.00. The Oakland and San Francisco 1939 aluminum tokens auction at $5 to $10 apiece. Collector demand for tokens from a given locality may affect value and raise the price of a set to as much as $10.00 or more.

CREDITS

Duane Feisel did the typesetting and catalog layout as well as considerable editing and consultation. His, Jere Runciman's and my collections form the basis for this listing.

Jere Runciman deserves a medal for the detailed proofreading he did. There is nothing more excruciating than checking and re-checking descriptions in a token catalog.

Ron and Anita Lerch provided editorial comments and solved several attribution mysteries with their amazing computer map. (They read a lot of detective novels.)

Will Posthumus added a number of pieces to this list and has embarked on a lifetime search to identify several mavericks. Perhaps he or J.C. Hoffman will locate a town for the Tony Hadad tokens.

J.C. Hoffmann attributed the Bi-Rite Liquor tokens and rightly got on me for assigning the town of Planada to Los Angeles County (it belongs in Madera County!).

My thanks go to members of the Western States Token Society for helping with the startup costs and sponsoring my effort.

FUTURE LISTINGS

I want to hear about any tokens not listed in this catalog. Any corrections or new ideas about how this series should be presented will be welcome.

If you have unlisted pieces I need either to borrow your tokens or have you make clear Xeroxes of both sides.

If your unlisted tokens have no indication of town, I will need telephone book or city directory entries.

Have fun collecting.

Personalized Plastics Company
La Crosse, Wisconsin

Tokens manufactured by the Personalized Plastics Company (PPCo) are the most numerous of the California and Nevada series. The firm opened in November, 1972 according to local newspapers and was last mentioned in the 1977 La Crosse telephone book and 1978 city directory.

Type A: tokens with this reverse are the least common of the PPCo series. The style has not been found on tokens from Southern California or Nevada. The common legend reads in three lines:

FOOD STAMP CREDIT
 (denomination)
IN ELIGIBLE FOODS

The first line is curved above and the third curved below. Both lines form a circle enclosing the denomination. The circular text has an outside diameter of 25.5mm. Numerals in the denomination have corners more rounded than squared.

Denomination and color combinations are:

- 1¢ - black
- 5¢ - green
- 10¢ - blue
- 25¢ - red

No 50¢ tokens are known with this reverse type.

Plastic colors may vary in shading, sometimes dramatically. Designs are printed rather than heat-impressed. There is often a 3mm circular indentation in the center of the obverse.

The design most likely was employed by PPCo from November, 1972, when the company opened, until 1973 or 1974. So far, Type A has been found only on tokens from Tulare County and nearby communities.

Type B: tokens are similar to Type A. Sizes, legends, denominations and colors are the same. Designs are printed rather than heat-impressed.

The circular text has an outside diameter of 23mm. Numerals have corners more rounded than squared. No 50¢ tokens are known bearing this reverse type.

The style was employed from about 1974 to 1975. Dated tokens in this style from other states show the year 1974.

Type B tokens are uncommon, however they have been found on tokens from many parts of Northern California. None have been reported from Southern California or Nevada.

Type C: is the second most common reverse for California, and may be the most prevalent in the Nevada series. Token sizes, legends, denominations and colors are the same as Types A and B, although plastic colors show less variety in shading. Designs are printed rather than heat-impressed.

50¢ - bright pink

tokens were introduced with Type C.

The circular text has an outside diameter of 23mm. Numerals have corners more squared than rounded. The style was used between 1975 to 1976. Dated tokens from other states show the year 1975.

Type D: This reverse is similar to A, B and C and is the most common reverse style. Sizes, legends and denominations are the same as Type C, including 50¢ denominations. Plastic colors show little or no shading. Obverse and reverse inscriptions are lightly indented from a heat-impression process.

The circular legend has an outside diameter of 25mm. Numerals have corners more squared than rounded.

The design was employed from 1976 through 1977, and through December 31, 1978, by the successor firm, Plasco, also of La Crosse. Dated tokens of this style from other states show the year 1976.

Type E: was produced concurrently with Type D. Tokens have molded, raised-letter reverses and raised rims. Denominations and colors are the same. Obverse designs are lightly heat-impressed in white. Reverse legends are the color of the plastic.

Two molds were used to produce the reverse, consequently circular legends are often rotated at odd angles to the numeral of denomination. This reverse type has not been reported from Nevada.

Tropical Lab Company
Onalaska and La Crosse, Wisconsin

Type F: tokens bearing this reverse are reported only from Los Angeles and San Francisco. The tokens are 38mm in diameter without raised rims. Reverse legends read in four lines:

FOOD
(denomination)
CREDIT

Denomination and color combinations are as follows:

1¢ - white with black printing
 5¢ - orange with black or white printing
 10¢ - yellow with black or white printing
 25¢ - black with white printing

No 50¢ tokens are known for this reverse type.

The common obverse legends read:

REDEEMABLE
ONLY IN ELIGIBLE
FOODS AT:
(retailer's imprint)

Legends on both sides are slightly indented from a heat-impression process.

Tropical Lab Company was listed in La Crosse directories from 1971 through 1973 under Pet Supplies!

Plastic Tag and Trade Check Company
Bay City, Michigan (Platco)

Type G: known only from a single 1¢ specimen issued by John's In 'N' Out Market of Campbell, California. The token is 38mm in diameter, red plastic, and does not have a raised rim.

The reverse legend is white and reads in six lines:

FOOD
REDEEMABLE ONLY
FOR FOOD ITEMS
ON AUTHORIZED
LIST

The denomination appears on the obverse.

Type H: is found only on tokens issued in Bakersfield and Lompoc, California. Tokens are 28mm in diameter and do not have raised rims. Their reverse legends read in five lines:

(denomination)
FOOD STAMP
CREDIT
IN ELIGIBLE FOODS

Denomination and color combinations are:

1¢ - black
 5¢ - green
 10¢ - blue
 25¢ - red
 50¢ - white

The legend is white on the four lowest denominations and black on the 50¢ token. Designs are indented by a heat-impression process. The orders for the tokens were taken by Duane H. Feisel of California.

Type I: is known only from four denominations issued by Harding Market of Mountain View, California.

Tokens are 28mm in diameter and without raised rims. Reverse legends are white and read in seven lines:

FOOD STAMP
GOOD FOR
(denomination)
REDEEMABLE
IN ELIGIBLE
FOODS ONLY
TRADE TOKEN

Denomination and color combinations are:

1¢ - black
 5¢ - pale blue
 10¢ - red
 25¢ - green

Legends are white. Designs are indented by a heat-impression process.

Type J: is known only from tokens issued by Good Earth Natural Foods in Los Gatos, California. All specimens are 23mm in diameter and are without raised rims. Reverse legends are white and read in four lines:

K: 5

5b

1o

5o

(Type J Reverse Design continued)

REDEEMABLE

Denominations are on the obverse.

Denomination and color combinations reported are:

1¢ - red
5¢ - green
25¢ - pale blue

Designs are indented from a heat-impression process.

Manufacturer Unknown

Type K: is known from a single 5¢ specimen issued in the 1970's by the Turlock Super Market in Turlock, California. The green plastic token is 42mm in diameter and has raised rims.

Its legend is black and reads in four lines:

FOOD
COUPON
(denomination)
PURCHASE

Type L: is found on tokens for the first Food Stamp Program of 1939-43, and are known only from Oakland and San Francisco, California. All denominations were struck in aluminum with incuse legends.

The common reverse reads in six lines:

GOOD ONLY
UNDER REGULATIONS
& CONDITIONS GOVERNING
THE ISSUANCE OF FOOD
ORDER STAMPS BY THE F.S.C.C.

("F.S.C.C." stands for Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, a title employed only in 1939.)

Denominations are on the obverse and read 1¢ Blue, 5¢ Blue, 1¢ Orange and 5¢ Orange in addition to the merchant inscription. "Blue" denominations are octagonal in shape; and "Orange" denominations are round.

MAVERICK TOKENS

Tokens listed on this page have been sold by dealers as being from the towns mentioned in bold face. Directories for those towns did not show stores under those names, however not all directories were available for the 1970s.

1. A & A / MARKET (semi-circles above and below)
D-?
Given as San Francisco; telephone directories for 1972-79 gave the address 4555 California St, however other localities had markets with the same name
2. BEST / SAVE / MARKET
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Armona, Kings County; a search of Kings County telephone directories 1971,'72,'73,'76,'79 and 1982 revealed no listings; however, a Best Buy Market was listed for a number of years
3. CENTRAL COAST CO-OP ASSOCIATION / CCCA
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Santa Cruz; not in telephone books for 1971,'72,'74,'79,'82; library there did not respond to inquiry
4. CO-OP / PORT / UNITY / (Twin Pines logo)
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Los Angeles; the Los Angeles Public Library searched Los Angeles Central telephone directories 1975-80 but found no listing
5. Giant Market (tokens not examined)
1997: Given as San Luis Obispo; not found for any location on computer CD-ROM telephone directory for the West Coast
6. GRAY'S FISH & POULTRY TRUCK / (truck)
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Los Angeles. the Los Angeles Public Library searched Los Angeles Central telephone directories 1975-80 but found no listing
7. TONY / HADAD
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Turlock, Stanislaus County; a directory search for 1970-1980 was carried out by local token collectors J.C. Hoffman and Will Posthumus, and the Stanislaus County Library, but no listing was found
8. HAPPY / COW / DAIRY / LA VACA FELIZHECHERIA
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Compton; the Los Angeles Public Library searched Compton telephone directories 1975-80 but found no listing

Note: La Vaca Felizhecheria is misspelled Spanish; the phrase should read La Vaca Feliz Lecheria; correct grammar would have it as Lecheria La Vaca Feliz
9. HENDERSON GROCERY / (monogram: HG)
D: 1 5 10 25 50
E: 1 5 10 25 50 (raised reverse inscription and rims)
1997: Given as Los Angeles; the Los Angeles Public Library searched Los Angeles Central telephone directories 1975-80, and my search added 1971, 1972 and 1981, but no listing was found
10. JESS PRODUCE / S
D: 1 5 10 25 50
1997: Given as Whittier, Los Angeles County; the Whittier Public Library searched city directories 1977-79 but found no listing

CRYSTAL PALACE MARKET (San Francisco)

The Crystal Palace Market was San Francisco's last covered public market and operated from 1923 to 1959. Tokens were issued in 1939 and valid at all stalls.

"It is highly unlikely that any historical society will affix a bronze marker on the site of the Crystal Palace Market at Eighth and Market streets. A commercial establishment of middle age and undistinguished aspect, it succumbed in August, 1959, to prolonged economic illness complicated by a changing population.

"Its closing left an emptiness in the hearts of a generation of San Franciscans who loved to wander the narrow aisles, breathing the mingled essences of ripe cheese, dill pickles and fresh coffee, buying sacks of chestnuts, slices of mortadella, bottles of herb vinegar and bowls of fresh fruit with yogurt.

"Where the Crystal stood there is now a failed commercial hotel, converted into apartments and offices. Gone are the gunny-bags of lentils, the barrels of shriveled olives, the mountains of garlic, the greetings shouted back and forth in Italian or Serbo-Croat - gone all traces of the last of the multi-concession downtown markets."

Paul C. Johnson and Richard Reinhardt

FLOOD GATE STORE (Navarro)

I spoke on the phone today to Robert "Butch" Paula former owner of the Flood Gate Store. He told me the store address was 1810 Highway 128, about six miles west of Philo and one mile east of Navarro. However it is located in the jurisdiction of Philo.

The store has been the Flood Gate Cafe for a couple of years. Its present owners are new to the area. Butch and his wife Elizabeth ran it as a grocery store from about 1974 to 1985. He remembers using Food Stamp Credit Tokens at the counter, but not for very long.

In the latter year they sold the store, but kept title to the building and property. They live just behind the cafe.

Butch says he used to tell people his store was in Navarro. He thinks the town has gone downhill in recent years. Whenever anyone asks now he says he lives in Philo.

He ran a bar in one part of the store. Chain saws were hung on the wall. Loggers came in for a snort after work. The trees are mostly gone now as well as the loggers.

Jerry F. Schimmel
August 10, 1997

(Footnote: Ron and Anita Lerch, using a recent computer map, located 1810 Highway 128 less than a mile east of Navarro and eight miles west of Philo. On a recent visit to the site they found the cafe to be less than a half mile from Navarro.)

LONDON GENERAL STORE (London)

Dear Mr Schimmel:

The following is from our London Community file and was gathered from various clippings:

"London is about twenty miles northwest of Visalia and five miles southwest of Dinuba. On maps the name used is London. The Tulare County Planning Department refers to it as London.

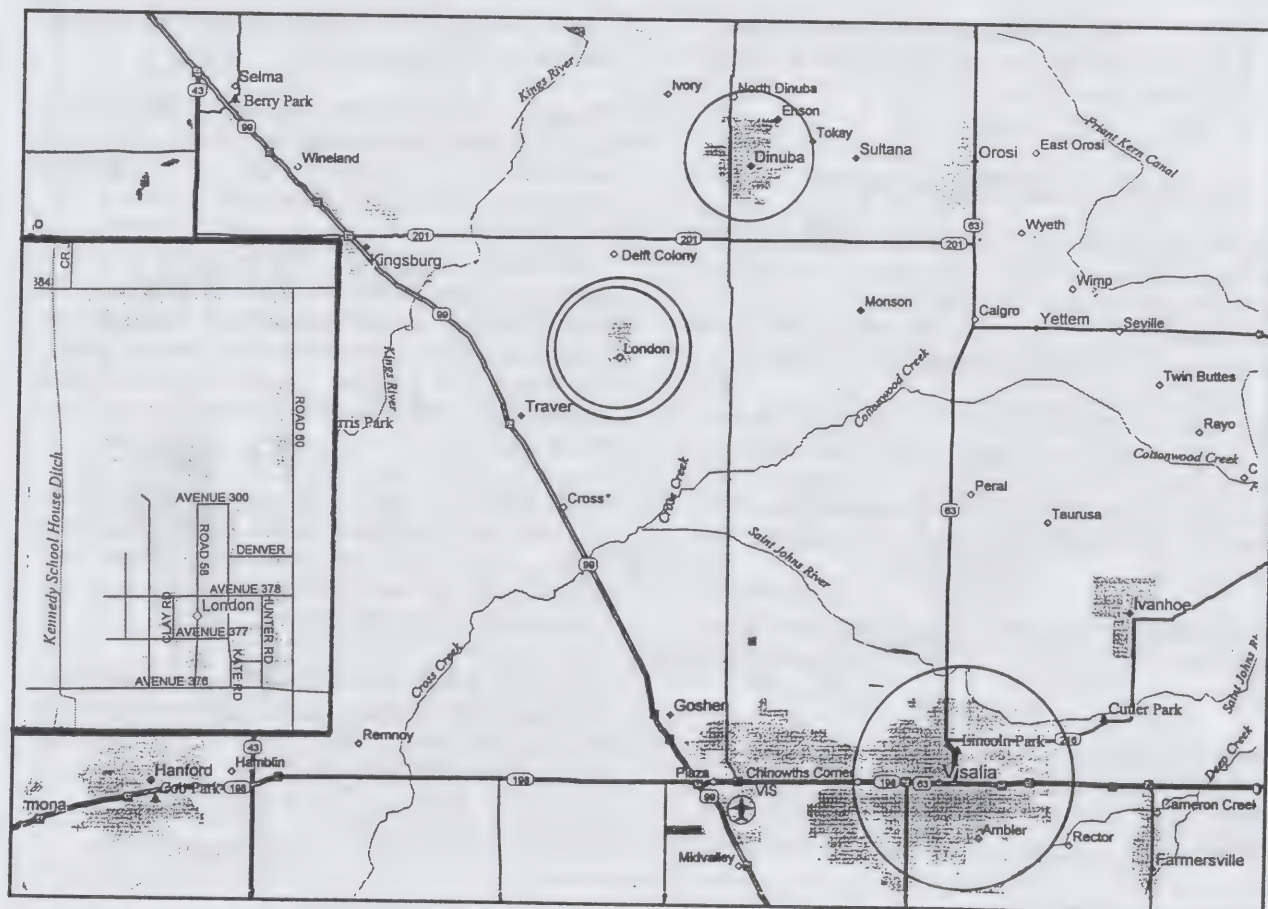

"In the phone book it is London Colony. "Colony" is an incorrect name as it was never established as such. The only thing London residents had, and still have in common is that they are poor.

"London is not listed in telephone books. Phone book addresses are found under Dinuba. Only one entry from 1971 to 1979 used the designation "London" - the London Waterworks.

"London was founded in 1946 by Henry Bartch, a farmer who subdivided his land and sold it off in parcels for low monthly payments to help the poor. At the time of its establishment this cluster of houses was called New London. Bartch named the main thoroughfare Kate Street for his housekeeper, Kate Pound.

"By 1966 London had lost the prefix 'New' from post office listings. Its population had grown to just over 1000. There were no sidewalks, sewers, mail delivery, or garbage pickup. The nearest fire substation was fifteen miles away.

"London did have an old fire truck and a volunteer fire department made up of men who worked ten to fifteen miles away during the day and had fire coverage evenings and weekends.

"There was no school in London. Children were bussed to either Traver or Kings River Elementary Schools. In 1966 it did have Geneva Keltner's London General Store and a nine-party phone line. The London General Store was never listed in telephone books.

"By 1983 there were two markets in London: the London Market (formerly the London General Store) and the Marketeer. The population had reached 1,257. By 1988 the post office had closed and postal deliveries were trucked over from Dinuba. Drug trafficking was rampant.

"Then things improved for London. In 1994 a preschool was established. A year later the London Community Center opened primarily serving youth. In 1996 Sheriff's officers performed a major drug sweep and in March, 1997, a County Sheriff substation opened funded by a special grant."

MONTEREY MARKET - Soledad

In acquiring some of the remaining stock of tokens from the Monterey Market in Soledad, I also obtained the original card order form (the blank form was provided by Personalized Plastics) for the tokens. This card was returned with the tokens when the completed order was shipped.

The order was received by Personalized Plastics on May 5, 1976. For a total cost of $27.00, the owner of Monterey Market, Sebastian Carmona, received 125 pieces each of the 5¢, 10¢, 25¢ and 50¢ tokens in a shipment sent from the factory on June 16, 1976. That cost works out to 5.4¢ per token.

Note that no 1¢ tokens were ordered or shipped to the market, yet a 1¢ token is listed. Perhaps there was a later order for the 1¢ token, or perhaps the factory merely had some made up when the regular order was being produced.

Mr. Carmona failed to provide a layout for the wording for the obverse of the tokens, so the plant simply used the name of the store, embellished by enclosing it within a circle.

Although Personalized Plastics provided a "recommended usage" of 40% in 1¢ tokens, 20% each in 5¢ and 10¢ tokens, and 10% each in 25¢ and 50¢ tokens, this recommendation was ignored when the order was placed. However, it is probable that many other users did follow that recommendation.

The pricing structure provided an incentive to order 1000 pieces at a cost of 3.9¢ per token ($39.00 for 1000 tokens). For a given quantity, the denominations could be mixed however desired.

Orders for larger quantities did not reduce the price substantially—at 5000 pieces the cost was down only to 3.3¢ per token.

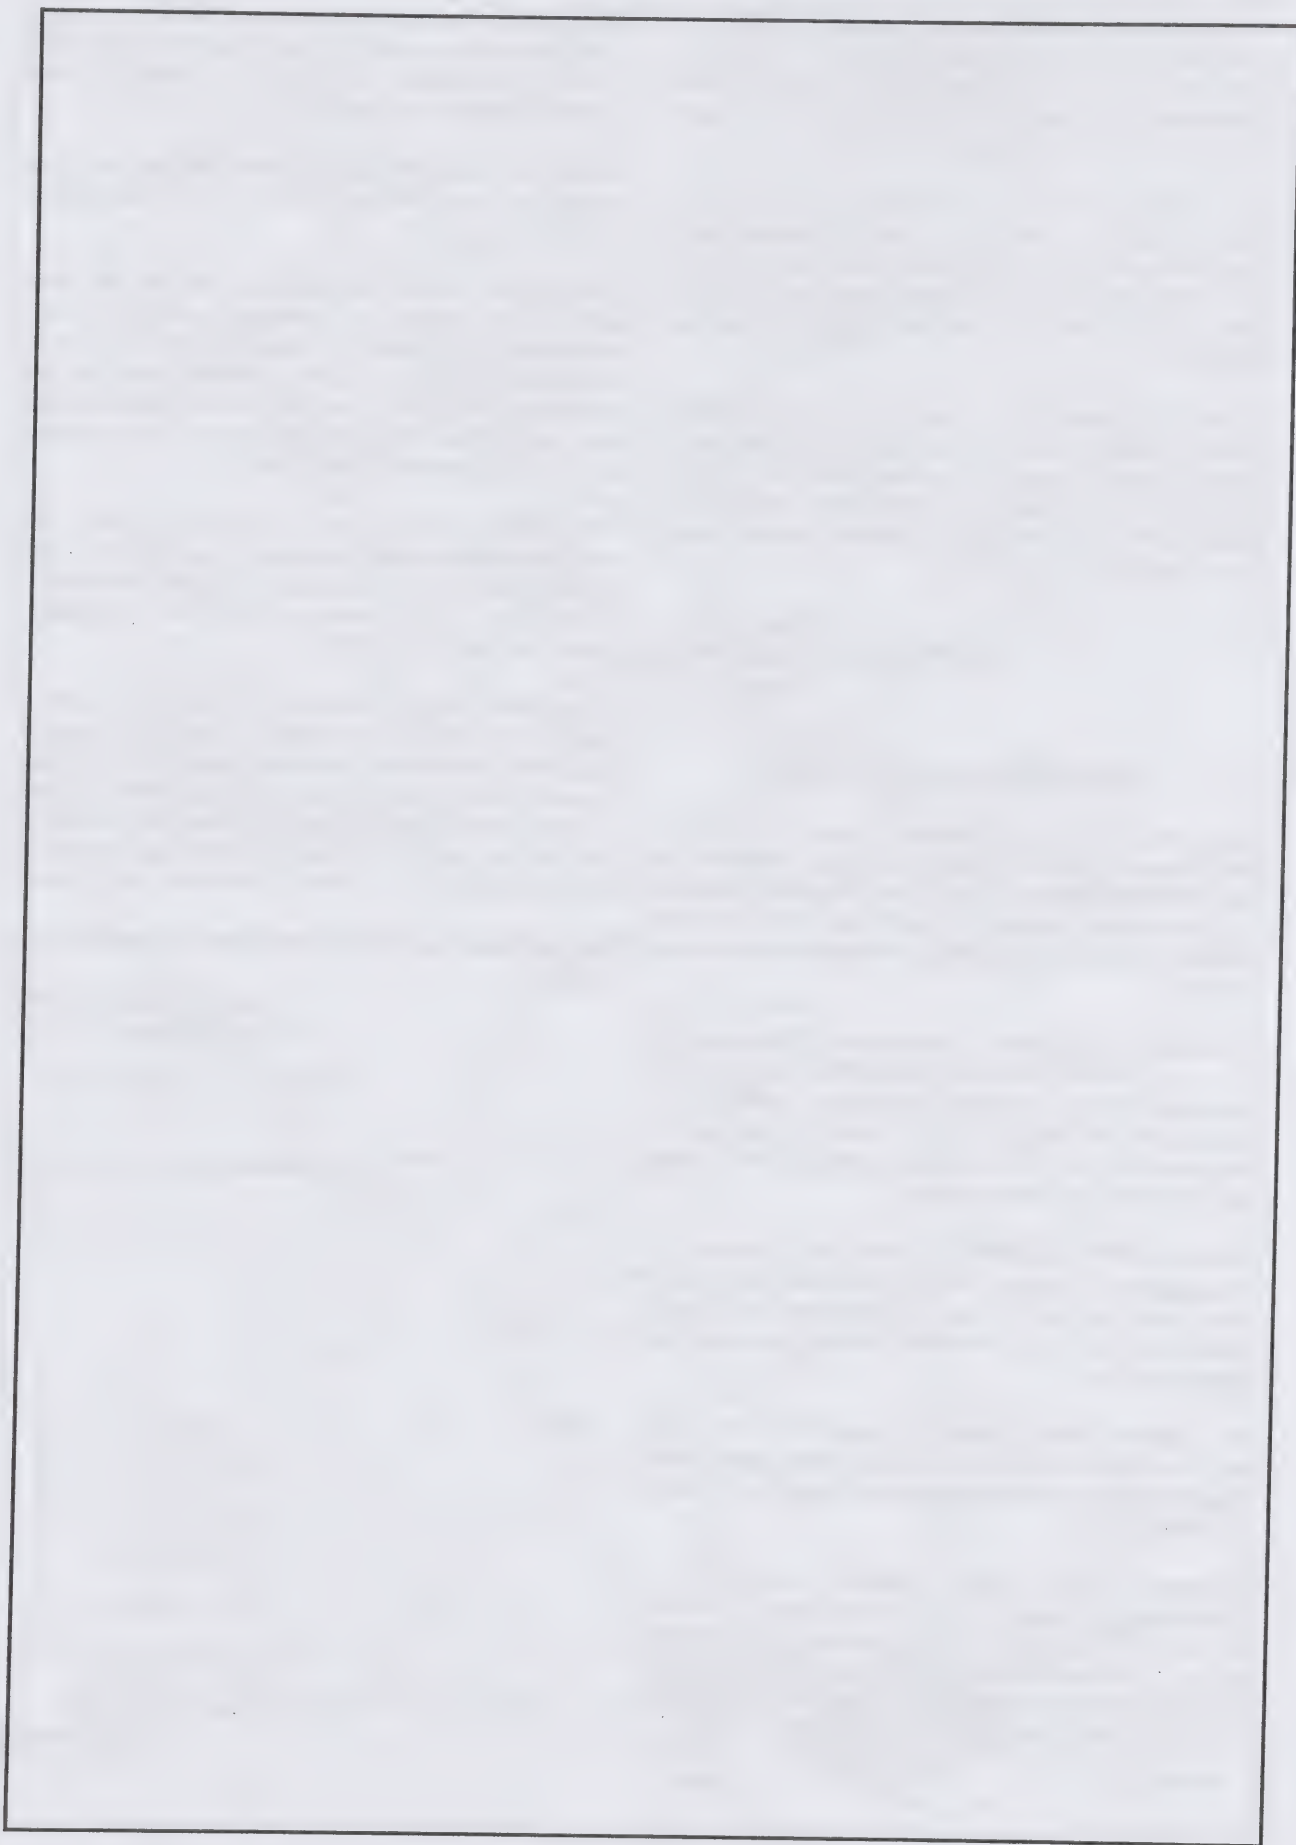

Assume that many stores typically ordered the 1000 quantity (it seems an obvious choice) in the recommended numbers. If this did occur then there would have been 400 1¢, 200 5¢, 200 10¢, 100 25¢, and 100 50¢ tokens made for a typical order. Right from the start many of the tokens would have been rarities based solely on the quantity manufactured.

It is interesting to note that a 1000 piece order in the recommended quantities would have resulted in a "face value" of $109—not a bad profit if all the tokens were to disappear. $109 revenue for a $39 expenditure results in a profit of 179%!

These plastic tokens, while of relatively low cost to make, were really not very durable. Carrying the tokens with metal coins raised havoc with them as they quickly became nicked, gouged, and worn. Add to this the loss of tokens through normal use by lower income people and one can see the difficulty in locating collectable specimens today.

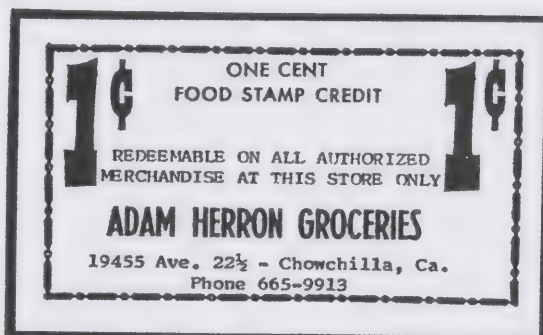

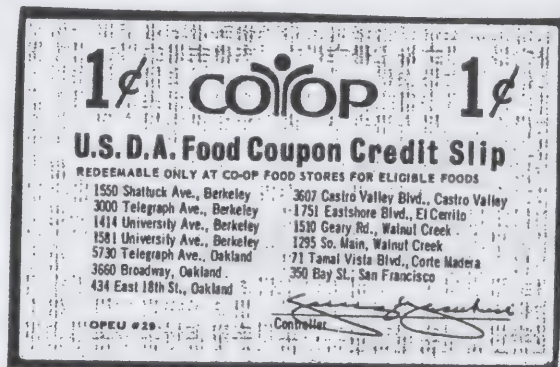

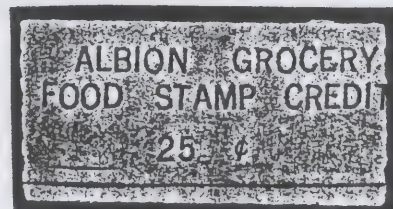

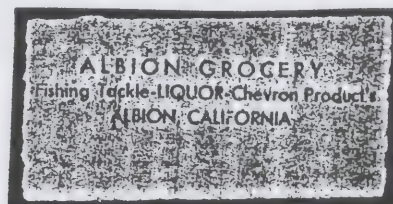

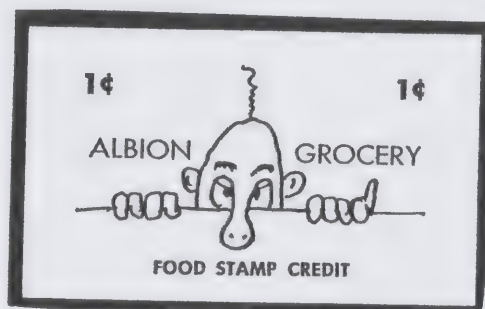

Many of these "modern" tokens have become true token rarities.

Sampler of
CALIFORNIA
FOOD STAMP CREDIT
PAPER SCRIP

A small selection of Food Stamp Credit paper scrip is presented here. The actual number of California issues is unguessable. Estimates run as high as ten issuers of paper scrip to every merchant who used tokens.

Unlike token descriptions only key phrases from scrip legends are given. Scrip sizes are given in inches, not millimeters.

For those unfamiliar with the field of paper currency, safety paper has pale cross hatch printing in the background to make counterfeiting more difficult.

Food Stamp Spenders To Get Change Tokens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department plans to eliminate the practice of allowing food stamp spenders to take up to 49 cents change in cash when they shop for groceries.

The year-old practice was criticized in a congressional report that said it "threatens the success of the food stamp program."

Under new rules that will take effect March 1, food stamp spenders will get small-denomination tokens or store credit slips in change when they cash in food stamps for groceries. Also, the report said, they are permitted to pay for bottle deposits with stamps and redeem the bottles for cash.

Agriculture Department spokesmen say investigations of the cash-change practice have revealed very limited violations. But conceivably, food stamp users could make several small purchases with coupons and collect enough cash in change to buy cigarettes, beer, soap, toilet paper or other items not available under the food stamp program.

Minimum Order is 500 Tokens at $20.00
